INTRODUCTION

The 2024 edition of Legislative Districts At-A-Glance features sections of comprehensive information and comparative data designed for a legislative audience. Contained in this report are separate profiles for each of Nebraska's 49 legislative districts consisting of data points related to population, education, health, income and poverty, housing, employment, and infrastructure. In addition, each legislative district profile includes detailed maps of the district and its place among other legislatively drawn boundaries (such as congressional districts). Also presented in this report are 31 ranking pages highlighting district comparisons across a variety of topics. Legislative Districts At-A-Glance offers information from multiple sources in order to support analysis of all areas in Nebraska.

Near the end of this report are reference lists encompassing counties, municipalities, public school districts, and private schools associated with each district. Finally, provided at the end of this report are Glossary and Sources sections consisting of descriptions about the provided data and links to the source material contained in this report.

The Legislative Research Office presents Legislative Districts At-A-Glance as a quick reference or starting point for policy-making, and to provide both newly-elected and returning senators with essential statistics in a user-friendly format. Our goal is to continually improve each iteration of the At-A-Glance reports, and we welcome the opportunity to hear from you about how Legislative Districts At-A-Glance can become an even more useful document supporting data-driven policy debate and lawmaking.

REDISTRICTING

In January of each year ending in the number one, a special committee is established for the purposes redistricting (Rule 3, Section 6). The Redistricting Committee of the Legislature receives staff support from the Legislative Research Office (LRO) including equipment, training, and legal advice. The committee is authorized to introduce and exercise jurisdiction over legislative bills and resolutions relating to redistricting and hold hearings regarding such legislation. Once drafts of redistricting plans are approved by the Redistricting Committee, LRO conducts statistical tests to ensure the maps contain legal and proper boundaries (such as contiguity and compactness). Many of the recent redistricting changes to legislative boundaries were due to growth in Nebraska's population centers. In the time between 2010 and 2020, the population in Nebraska grew from 1,826,341 to 1,961,504 individuals - a 135,163 person increase. At the same time, the five largest cities in Nebraska grew by a combined 131,449 people: Omaha (77,093), Lincoln (32,703), Bellevue (14,039), Grand Island (4,611), and Kearney (3,003). Among the many boundary changes, the 2021 redistricting process ultimately moved Legislative District 36 from central Nebraska into southern Sarpy County. Once the work of the special committee is complete, LRO coordinates with the U.S. Census Bureau's Redistricting Data Program to prepare for the next decennial redistricting process.

Housing	Total Housing Units	N/A	A housing unit may be a house, an apartment, a mobile home, a group of rooms or a single room that is occupied (or, if vacant, intended for occupancy) as separate living quarters. Separate living quarters are those in which the occupants live separately from any other individuals in the building and which have direct access from outside the building or through a common hall. They are residences for single individuals, for groups of individuals, or for families who live together. A single individual or a group living in a housing unit is defined to be a household.	Decennial Census (2020)	U.S. Census Bureau	https://data.census.gov/
Housing	Vacant Housing Units	N/A	Percent of unoccupied housing units. For vacant housing units, the criteria of separateness and direct access are applied to the intended occupants whenever possible. Nontraditional living quarters, such as boats, RVs, and tents, are considered housing units ONLY if someone is living in them and they are either the occupant's usual residence or the occupant has no usual residence elsewhere. These nontraditional living arrangements are not considered housing units if they are vacant.	Decennial Census (2020)	U.S. Census Bureau	https://data.census.gov/
Housing	Total Occupied Housing Units	Owner-occupied	A housing unit is classified as occupied if it is the current place of residence of the person or group of people living in it at the time of interview, or if the occupants are only temporarily absent from the residence for two months or less, that is, away on vacation or a business trip. If all the people staying in the unit at the time of the interview are staying there for two months or less, the unit is considered to be temporarily occupied and classified as "vacant." Housing	Median Home Value	N/A	The median divides the value distribution into two equal parts: one-half of the cases falling below the median value of the property (house and lot, mobile home and lot (if lot owned), or condominium unit) and one-half above the median. Median value calculations are rounded to the nearest hundred dollars. Included in the data are housing units that were owned, being bought, vacant for sale, or sold but not occupied at the time of data collection. Value is the respondent's estimate of how much the property (house and lot, mobile home and lot (if lot owned), or condominium unit) would sell for if it were for sale. If the house was owned or being bought, but the land on which it sits was not, the respondent was asked to estimate the combined value of the house and the land. Owners of noncondominium multi-unit buildings who live in one of the building's units, like duplexes and small apartment buildings, should report the value of the building, the land, and any additional buildings on the same plot of land. For vacant units, value was the price asked for the property.	2018-2022 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates	U.S. Census Bureau	https://data.census.gov/
Housing	Median Monthly Owner Costs	Median Selected Monthly Owner Costs (dollars)	Selected monthly owner costs are the sum of payments for mortgages, deeds of trust, contracts to purchase, or similar debts on the property (including payments for the first mortgage, second mortgages, home equity loans, and other junior mortgages); real estate taxes; fire, hazard, and flood insurance on the property; utilities (electricity, gas, and water and sewer); and fuels (oil, coal, kerosene, wood, etc.). It also includes, where appropriate, the monthly condominium fee for condominiums (Question 16) and mobile home costs (Question 24) (personal property taxes, site rent, registration fees, and license fees). Selected monthly owner costs were tabulated for all owner-occupied units, and usually are shown separately for units "with a mortgage" and for units "not mortgaged."	2018-2022 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates	U.S. Census Bureau	https://data.census.gov/

Median gross rent is computed on the basis of a standard distribution. In computing median gross rent, units reported as “No rent paid” are excluded. Median gross rent is rounded to the nearest whole dollar. Gross rent is the contract rent plus the estimated average monthly cost of utilities (electricity, gas, and water and sewer) and fuels (oil, coal, kerosene, wood, etc.) if these are paid by the renter (or paid for the renter by someone else). Employment	Labor Force Participation Rate	N/A	The percentage of people in the legislative district who are 16 years of age and over and are also in the labor force (i.e., those who are employed, unemployed, or in the armed forces). The data on employment status and journey to work relate to the reference week, that is, the calendar week preceding the date on which the respondents completed their questionnaires or were interviewed. This week is not the same for all respondents since the interviewing was conducted over a 12-month period. The occurrence of holidays during the relative reference week probably had no effect on overall measurement of employment status. Based on labor market areas and unemployment levels, the U.S. Department of Labor identifies service delivery areas and determines amounts to be allocated to each for job training. The Office of Management and Budget, under the Paperwork Reduction Act, uses data about employed workers as part of the criteria for defining metropolitan areas. The Bureau of Economic Analysis uses this information, in conjunction with other data, to develop its state per capita income estimates used in the allocation formulas and eligibility criteria for many federal programs such as Medicaid.	2018-2022 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates	U.S. Census Bureau	https://data.census.gov/

Employment	Average Travel Time to Work (minutes)	Mean Travel Time to Work (in Minutes)	Mean travel time to work (in minutes) is the average travel time that workers usually took to get from home to work (one way) during the reference week. This measure is obtained by dividing the total number of minutes taken to get from home to work (the aggregate travel time) by the number of workers 16 years old and over who did not work at home. The travel time includes time spent waiting for public transportation, picking up passengers and carpools, and time spent in other activities related to getting to work. Mean travel times of workers having specific characteristics also are computed. For example, the mean travel time of workers traveling 45 or more minutes to work is computed by dividing the aggregate travel time of workers whose travel times were 45 or more minutes by the number of workers whose travel times were 45 or more minutes. The aggregate travel time to work used to calculate mean travel time to work is rounded. Mean travel time is rounded to the nearest tenth of a minute.	2018-2022 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates	U.S. Census Bureau	https://data.census.gov/
